SCOPE OF THE IJCSS JOURNAL

ABOUT JOURNAL

The International Journal of Contemporary Security Studies (IJCSS) is a double-blind peer-reviewed, open-access, international journal published twice a year. The journal serves as a platform for academics, policymakers, and practitioners to share high-quality research and practical insights on contemporary security issues.

The journal aims to provide an interdisciplinary platform for theoretical and empirical research in security studies. It seeks to facilitate communication between academics, security practitioners, policymakers, and analysts, encouraging a deeper understanding of security challenges in a rapidly changing global environment.

International Journal of Contemporary Security Studies

AIMS

IJCSS aims to provide a multidisciplinary platform that facilitates dialogue between academics, practitioners, policymakers, and analysts to enhance global security, stability, and resilience in an increasingly complex and interconnected world. The journal promotes collaboration between different disciplines to develop comprehensive security solutions and enhance global stability and resilience.

SUBMISSION

Authors submitting to the International Journal of Contemporary Security Studies (IJCSS) must complete the submission process through the journal's online submission system. If you have some technical problems, you can use email address - ijocss.fb@gmail.com.

The International Journal of Contemporary Security Studies (IJCSS) explores a broad range of security-related topics, covering both traditional and emerging security challenges.
